author: Norman Foster

'Norman Foster – Talking and Writing' brings together, for the very first time, a selection of Norman Foster's most seminal lectures and essays. Spanning four decades, the publication is a comprehensive compilation of Foster's thoughts on architecture, urbanism, design, and technology and also compiles detailed descriptions of the development of some of Foster + Partners' most influential projects. The publication presents a selection of lectures and essays alongside the original slides used in each of their presentations, spanning from the 1960s to the early 2000's, in what will surely be a point of reference for students, practitioners, and lovers of architecture for years to come.
